

Case List Analyzer

Legal Analytics® tailored to the cases that matter to you.

Traditional research tools end up presenting you with a list of cases that makes it hard to quickly glean insightful information, unless you drill into each and every case. With Lex Machina, case lists are just the beginning. Case List Analyzer helps you surface strategic information from only the cases you care about, quickly and easily. Gain custom insights on how to approach a case, learn more about the players, or how to defend against legal action.

Craft Winning Case Strategy

Would you like to compare two law firms to see whose cases terminated faster? Or, do you want to know whether a party has ever been involved in patent cases with big damages?

Case List Analyzer puts you in the driver's seat, enabling you to select cases based on your specific criteria. With just one click, you gain Custom Insights for this set of cases.

Filter your list by case type, date range, courts, judges, case resolutions, damages, patent findings, and more, to build the case list you care about.

Case List Analyzer provides you charts and graphs on every case list page, to help you uncover strategic information and visualize trends—without having to drill down into each and every case. The Summary view includes the types of case filings, the top five courts and judges, the number of open and terminated cases, and more.

Custom Insights for Timing

Analyze Time to Termination, Claim Construction Hearing, and Trial, to determine how long it may take to litigate your case and set your budget.

Custom Insights for Damages

View a breakdown of patent case damages type (e.g. Reasonable Royalties, Lost Profits) over time, to determine the risk and how much is at stake.

Custom Insights for Case Resolutions

Review the resolution of each terminated patent case on your list. See whether the case ended with a victory on Summary Judgment or with a Likely Settlement because of Plaintiff Voluntary Dismissal.

Custom Insights for Patent Findings

View a breakdown of each finding of infringement, invalidity, or unenforceability and analyze how that finding happened, such as at summary judgment or trial.

“Lex Machina provides us unprecedented insight into the data needed to formulate effective litigation strategies.”
