

Legal Analytics® for False Claims Litigation

Lex Machina's award-winning Legal Analytics® platform allows outside counsel and in-house attorneys to research and anticipate the behavior of courts, judges, lawyers, law firms, and parties. Over three quarters of Am Law 100 firms and some of the largest global corporations use Legal Analytics to supplement traditional legal research with previously unavailable strategic insights that gives them a winning edge. Now, Legal Analytics is available for litigation involving the False Claims Act or an equivalent state statute in federal courts.

False Claims litigation centers on the allegations of fraud against the government by a person or company. It is a key area of law in which transparency and understanding are crucial.

Lex Machina's False Claims data lets you analyze and derive critical insights on judges, courts, law firms, attorneys, and parties involved in False Claims litigation. Our case set includes cases in which the federal or state government, or a relator on behalf of the government, alleges a violation of the False Claims Act or an equivalent false claims state statute (the "False Claims").

The Winning Edge

Lex Machina's Legal Analytics for False Claims litigation provides valuable data-driven insights and trends in False Case case timing, resolutions, damages, remedies, and findings. We help you answer questions such as:

- Who were the top defendants?
- Which law firms have the most experience representing defendants in False Claims cases in federal court?
- Which cases had the highest amounts of damages awarded in the last year? What were the specific amounts and what happened in those cases?
- What are the top districts by case volume?
- Has my judge ever ruled on False or Fraudulent Claim Liability? If so, how did they rule and at what stage of litigation?
- How many False Claims cases were resolved at trial and how often did claimants win? How many were resolved in a likely settlement?
- What is the median time to termination for False Claims cases in the Southern District of New York?
