

What Is It?

Lex Machina is the creator of Legal Analytics, the leading platform for litigation insights about courts, judges, lawyers, law firms, and parties. We help litigators land more clients and win more cases.

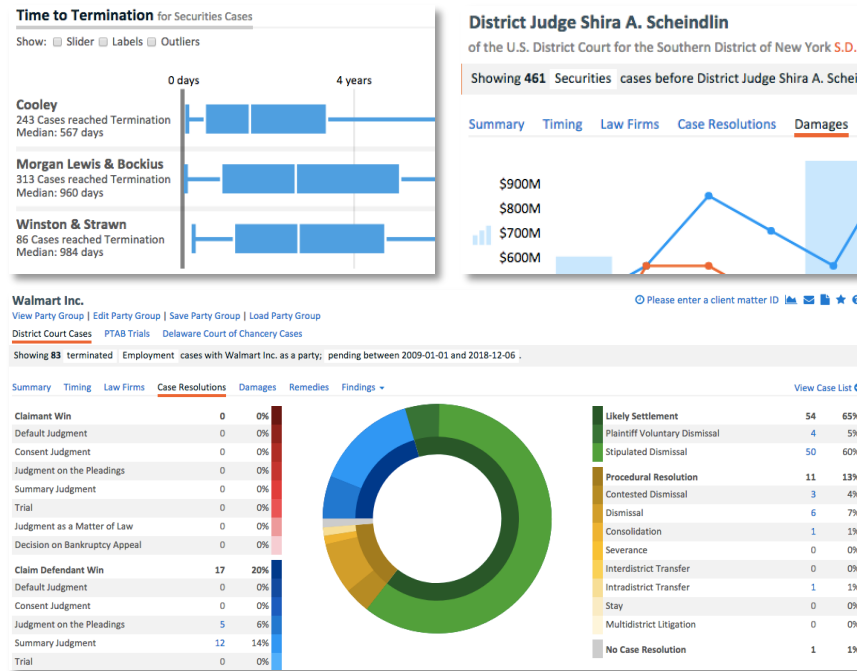

Our Legal Analytics provide practice-specific information on case resolutions, timing, findings, damages, remedies, and more. Over 3/4 of AmLaw100 firms, as well as many of the largest corporations in the world use Lex Machina.

Unique Benefits

- The most accurate and valuable data, compiled, cleaned, and enhanced by a combination of automation and in-house legal experts.
- Unique Practice-specific data and tags that produce valuable strategic insights
- The highly customizable Case List Analyzer enables meaningful analysis of cases like yours.
- Attorney Data Engine fixes many of the data issues with unreliable legal data.
- The only Legal Analytics Apps, for comparing judges, parties, law firms, creating winning motions, exploring damages, or expert witnesses.
- It's also really easy to use, and gets results with just a few clicks that otherwise could take days or weeks to compile.

When To Use?

- Create winning client pitches
- Assess parties and opposing counsel
- Early case and risk assessment
- Develop winning litigation strategy
- Set accurate litigation budgets
- Craft profitable AFA's
- Hire the best talent for your practice

Case Studies

- For a fixed fee arrangement, a large law firm overbid badly and didn't land the case. When they got Lex Machina, they learned that the opposing counsel was known to settle quickly, and the judge tended to drive parties to settlement. They could have bid much lower and won the business.
- The GC of a large Pharma company asked an attorney if he could provide her a summary of all pending ANDA litigation for an acquisition target within two weeks. Using Lex Machina, the lawyer gave it to her instantly on the phone and proceeded to represent her during the acquisition of the company.
