

Legal Analytics for Litigation Footprint

Lex Machina's award-winning Legal Analytics® platform allows outside counsel and in-house attorneys to research and anticipate the behavior of courts, judges, lawyers, law firms, and parties. Over 80% of Am Law 100 firms and many of the largest global corporations use Legal Analytics to supplement traditional legal research with previously unavailable strategic insights that give them a winning edge. Now, Lex Machina expanded its Legal Analytics coverage to the broadest in the industry, encompassing litigation track records of parties in over 27 million cases filed in 94 federal district courts and over 1,300 state courts ("Litigation Footprint").

COVERAGE

Litigation Footprint is a groundbreaking expansion of Lex Machina's Legal Analytics coverage that is built on a foundation of the best coverage of electronically available courts. It includes data from Lex Machina's complete coverage of federal district courts and enhanced state court coverage, along with new expanded basic state court coverage (which includes case numbers and titles, filing dates, and party names and roles). The basic state courts covered by Litigation Footprint may be enhanced with full Legal Analytics at a later date.

LITIGATION FOOTPRINT REPORT

By generating a Litigation Footprint report, users can view every case for the selected party group from federal district court, enhanced state court, and basic state court.

LITIGATION FOOTPRINT MAPS

On Lex Machina's platform, users can now unlock a trove of visual insights into the litigation landscape. Lex Machina provides side-by-side comparisons of case data from federal and state courts alongside new visually stunning analytics and comprehensive reports.

With a few clicks, users can employ Litigation Footprint to leverage the broadest Legal Analytics coverage available. They can instantly map the litigation history of parties in order to illuminate the relationships, trends, and insights that can't be derived anywhere else, but which are crucial to crafting successful litigation strategies, winning more cases, and closing more business.

